The diagram illustrates the layout of a 200m sprint race. It is divided into two main sections: the UPPER BRANCH and the LOWER BRANCH. The UPPER BRANCH consists of two lanes: Lane 3 (MGL) and Lane 2 (KOR). The LOWER BRANCH consists of three lanes: Lane 7 (PAK), Lane 5 (IND), and Lane 10 (KAZ). Each lane is represented by a box containing the lane number, the country code, and a 2x2 grid of empty boxes for athlete names. The lanes are connected by a central vertical line, and the race starts and ends at a common point on the right, labeled BRONZE.
